LEARNING GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

This course covers applied statistical methodologies pertaining to financial time series, with an emphasis on model building and accurate prediction. Completion of this course will equip students with insights and modeling tools to analyze real world financial and business time series. Students are expected to have basic working knowledge of probability and statistics including linear regression, estimation and testing from the applied perspective. We will use R throughout the course.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY

I do NOT tolerate cheating. Students are responsible for understanding the RU Academic Integrity Policy (http://academicintegrity.rutgers.edu/).

I will strongly enforce this Policy and pursue all violations. On all examinations and assignments, students must sign the RU Honor Pledge, which states, "On my honor, I have neither received nor given any unauthorized assistance on this examination or assignment.” I will screen all written assignments through SafeAssign or Turnitin, plagiarism detection services that compare the work against a large database of past work. Don’t let cheating destroy your hard-earned opportunity to learn. See business.rutgers.edu/ai for more details.

ATTENDANCE AND PREPARATION POLICY

Attendance to each class meeting is required. Students are responsible for all announcements and supplements given within each lecture and/or via course email/canvas.

HOMEWORK ASSIGNMENTS

Homework assignments will be given regularly. Late homework will NOT be accepted. Credit for homework is given based on HOW the problems are solved instead of a numerical answer.

Homework are due during class time if not specified otherwise.

EXAMS

There will be two exams. Both exams will be in-class. No makeup exam will be given in general. The tentative dates for the midterm exam is ().

---

GRADING POLICY

- Homework 30%, Exam one 30%, Exam two 40%
- There will be no extra credit for the course.
- Your grade is not subject to negotiation. If you feel I have made an error, submit your written argument to me within one week of receiving your grade. Clarify the precise error I made and provide all due supporting documentation. If I have made an error, I will gladly correct it. But I will adjust grades only if I have made an error. I cannot and will not adjust grades based on consequences, such as hurt pride, lost scholarships, lost tuition reimbursement, lost job opportunities, or dismissals.

Tentative Course Schedule:
• Introduction to time series, review of basic probability and statistics methods.
• Regression, decomposition and smoothing techniques.
• Basic stochastic models.
• ARIMA models.
• ARIMA models and seasonal ARIMA models.
• Seasonal ARIMA models, regression with TS errors.
• Exam one.
• ARCH and GARCH models.
• no class.
• GARCH models. Value at Risk.
• Classification techniques.
• High frequency models and market microstructure.
• No Class.
• Vector AR models and pairs trading.
• Final exam Review.

Learning Outcomes
A student graduating this course will gain knowledge in the following topics:

1. The ability to approach and analyze financial time series, including high frequency data.
2. The ability to differentiate between various time series models.
3. The ability to perform cross-validation of the model developed.
4. The ability to forecast future observations of the time series.
5. The ability to assess risk and to study methods for calculating value at risk.
6. A running knowledge of R for applied time series analysis.
